PRESIDENT'S

MESSAGE

I have just returned from the International Coin Show at El Paso. They sure do put on a fine show there. Those of you who have not been attending this show don't know what you have been missing. If you are not happy with the coin show, you can visit Juarez which is always interesting. If you don't like border-town shopping and night clubbing, you can always spend an evening at the dog races which is very entertaining and with the right kind of luck, it can be profitable. I just won't mention the wrong kind of luck. Then to break the monotony you can go to Sunland Park and spend an afternoon watching the horse races. If you don't watch out you will find so much entertainment you will neglect the coin show, which is exactly what I did. Nevertheless, it will be worth anybody's time to attend an International Coin Club show in El Paso.

I would like to bring to the attention of all T.N.A. members that besides our regular election of officers, we will also have two important propositions on the ballot.

≡1 will be the question of lowering the admission age of junior members. Our constitution sets the minimum age at 14 years. We feel that this should be lowered to 11 years as was discussed at our open T.N.A. membership meeting in Galveston last Spring.

≡2 is to change the time for the 1968 convention. Our constitution sets the time as April or the last week in March. Due to the heavy demands during the HemisFair, the host clubs have been unable to get hotel space during the prescribed period. The earliest time available is June 17, 18 and 19. If we are to have our convention at San Antonio during the HemisFair, the change of date must be approved. Please understand that the change will be for the 1968 convention only. I urge you to vote in favor of this proposition.

Those of you who plan on attending the Dallas T.N.A. convention April 14-16 had better be getting your reservations. They are real scarce.

ATTENTION T. N. A. CLUBS

New officers are taking over in most clubs for the 1967 term including representatives to the Texas Numismatic Association.

All club representatives must be members of T.N.A. and 1967 club dues must be paid before the T.N.A. Secretary, Mrs. Dorothy Kemmer, can mail out the club representative cards.

Please check with your club secretary on the above.

The T.N.A. governors and club representatives breakfast will be held Saturday morning, April 15 at 8 a. m. in the English Room. All elected T.N.A. officers and club representatives are urged to attend. Since arrangements have to be made, those planning to attend must advise Thos. C. Bain no later than 11 a.m., April 14 and receive their tickets. Clubs and their representatives must be current T.N.A. members, so if 1967 dues have not been paid, please do so as soon as possible. When contacting Mr. Bain for your breakfast ticket, please give him your T.N.A. membership number and also the name of the club you are representing.

A luncheon has been set up for members of the Society of Paper Money Collectors on Saturday, April 15 at 12 noon in the English Room. It is hoped that many will attend and bring material for trading. T.N.A. welcomes all S.P.M.C. members to be present.

The Baker Hotel is now concluding a nearly $1 million renovation to take care of conventions and to make your visit more enjoyable and comfortable. If you have not made room reservations yet, please do so at once.

OFFICIAL MEMORANDUM
BY
JOHN CONNALLY
GOVERNOR OF TEXAS
AUSTIN, TEXAS

GREETINGS:

Coins and Currency form a universal part of the lives of all citizens. The American Numismatic Association, a non-profit organization founded in 1891 and chartered by a special Act of Congress of 1912, is observing the week of April 22-29, 1967, as National Coin Week.

The members of this and kindred associations encourage and promote educational and fraternal relations and foster the interest of young and old in a subject that is entertaining and instructive as well as valuable in encouraging thrift.

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of

Coin Week In Texas

The Honorable John Connally, Governor of Texas, has officially proclaimed COIN WEEK in Texas for the period of April 22-29 at the request of the Austin Coin Club, and that organization immediately announced plans for a week-long observance for one of Texas' most popular hobbies.

Lyman Barteo and Wilson Forman, both of Austin, received the proclamation from Governor Connally in early February. Barteo is serving as general chairman for the Austin Club's annual "Money Mart," scheduled for September 23-24.

Col. E. M. Rice, Austin club vice president, was named chairman of two special numismatic exhibit events to be sponsored by the club during Coin Week. A day-long display of special collections of all types of coins and currency will be arranged in the showrooms of Chas. Maund Motor Co. A two-day coin show and exhibit will take place at Montgomery Ward Capitol Plaza store.

Col. Rice said both shows during past years had developed unusual interest in numismatics among new or beginning collectors, and information and education of these newcomers to the hobby would be major goals again this year.

Brad H. Smith, also of Austin, is acting as publicity chairman for both events.

ADDITION TO MINT CABINET FROM CORPUS CHRISTI MAN – 1884

(Editor's Note—The following was taken in part from the American Journal of Numismatics, Page 90, April 1884 edition and submitted by Holland Wallace of Racine, Wis., formerly of Texas.)

In describing (recent) donations to the United States Mint Cabinet at Philadelphia, Patterson Dubois said: "... we have from Quartermaster General Meigs a half dollar and pistareen of Carolus and Johana of Spain. These pieces were presented to General Meigs at Corpus Christi, Texas, in 1870. The special interest attaching to them, is their having been found on the beach of Padre Island, off the southerly coast of Texas. The supposition is that they were washed up from a sunken treasure ship, wrecked on the coast while carrying funds to the army of Cortez, who entered the City of Mexico in 1519.

"The good condition of the pieces seems to warrant our accepting this briny romance 'cum grano salis'. Antiquarian stories must expect to stand the tests of the chemist as well as of the historian. This reminds me, however, of some specimens in our cabinet, from the wreck of the San Pedro, some account of which may not be uninteresting here.

"Early in 1815, a naval armada was fitted out in Spain by Ferdinand VII. for the purpose of reducing the rebellious colonies in South America. The military force of this expedition amounted to ten thousand men, of whom two thousand were on board the flagship San Pedro. This vessel was also freighted to a large amount with gunpowder, cannon balls and specie." The fleet touched at the Island of Margarita, near the coast of Venezuela.

"After leaving the island, the vessel took fire, burnt four hours until the magazine caught and exploded, and the wreck went down with four hundred men.

"The right of working the wreck was granted about thirty years after to a Baltimore Company, known as the 'San Pedro Company.' Divers were set to work and the wreck found in 60 feet of water on a hard bed of coral. Over this there was a deposit of mud, and again over this a layer of coral which had to be pierced to arrive at the treasure. The Spanish dollars recovered were sent to Philadelphia, and up to September, 1848, about 75 thousand dollars had been recovered and recoined.

"The dollars were much corroded and encrusted, the coating having first to be removed to bring the pieces into fit condition for minting; the loss by corrosion was considerable; one dollar, with the impression still visible, being reduced to 34 cents in value. In the light of these and other facts, it is difficult to conceive how the pieces found in Texas could have come so clean from their reputed bath of over 300 years; but they are worth keeping for all that, and General Meigs has the thanks of the Republic for them."

COMMENTARIUM.....

COLLECTORS HOPE TO CURB QUESTIONABLE PROMOTIONS

A quiet move is underway to elevate coin collecting to a level that will exclude many of the questionable promotions and practices of the past ten years.

Such a plan is primarily aimed at (1) elimination of "sharp" transactions that usually hurt new collectors (2) deliberate overgrading of coins sold by mail (3) virtual guarantees of huge profits when certain coins are sold, and (4) hoarding of recent coins known to be of large mintage and of no special value from a numismatic standpoint.

All of these practices should go, leading numismatic associations and hobby leaders say.

The percentage of unscrupulous persons in coin collecting is probably no larger than in any other mushrooming hobby, but the need for raising operating standards is recognized by all who have seen a hundred types and personalities of collectors and dealers rush into what has been a very frenzied and lucrative activity.

One great fault has been the vulnerability of new collectors to experienced traders who habitually drive very hard bargains. The novice who "fills a board" or completes a small collection of some kind, and then learns he has consistently paid exorbitant prices from a supplier may become embittered enough to drop the hobby. However, most of these simply shrug off their gullibility to the cost of learning the hard way, and then continue their coin purchases on a more experienced and satisfying basis.

Purchases of large quantities of recent coins by beginners who were influenced by pressure selling have in many cases backfired on such eager dispensers of common material.

Until a year ago it was comparatively easy to sell almost any coins in rolls, or to move quantities of certain circulated coins minted after 1930. In the grab for anything with a possible growth potential, the millions of new collectors listened eagerly to certain dealers who at last saw a chance to sell the highly marginal items they had so long held on their shelves. This type of traffic became big business by any yardstick.

Two years ago it looked almost as if a coin collector could do nothing wrong. The demand for all coins was brisk and many common items were in short supply for a while. Each month quotations rose and the new "investors" really felt secure in their recent purchases.

But in due time a lull came and the cheap bulk material did not sell readily. Much of the resulting disappointment could be traced to dealers who dabbled in circulated coins and recent uncirculated rolls. No law was violated in the rather dubious sales of very cheap material to beginners, but the hobby suffered a setback from the mass movement of coins - that never should have been removed from circulation.

A concerted effort also is being made by influential coin societies to enlighten the public on the fallacy of the blind hoarding of common coins. Many of the coins now in hiding are so numerous that only a wide-open inflationary condition could make them valuable above their face value. Even the silver coins now hoarded in quantity seem to have a very limited enhancement potential, but their high bullion content admittedly does give them the advantage over ordinary copper and nickel coins.

Many reliable dealers were caught with large stocks of common coins that were moving briskly until a year ago. The almost-sudden lull found shelves full of items that formerly were in big demand from the millions of new collectors who had not learned to become selective in their buying habits.

Pressure from the Treasury Department helped to break up the traffic in common circulated coins. The audacity of a speculator who offered to furnish banks with current circulated coins at a small premium probably was the spark that touched off the campaign to keep ordinary coins in circulation.

But there is no law that prevents any individual from withdrawing from circulation coins of his choosing. Good taste and common sense, however, tend toward a reasonable withdrawal plan that will lend dignity to numismatics. In simpler words, deliberate hoarding of common coins does not appear to be a sensible and profitable practice.

THE $ SIGN

The origin of the $ sign has been variously accounted for, with perhaps the most widely accepted explanation being that it is the result of evolution, independently in different places, of the Mexican or Spanish 'P's' for pesos, or piastres, or pieces of eight. The theory, derived from a study of old manuscripts, is that the "S" gradually came to be written over the "P" developing a close equivalent of the $ mark, which eventually evolved. It was widely used before the adoption of the U. S. dollar in 1785.

Leota N. Green of Dallas, recently wrote and asked "How do you write an obituary for a coin club?" Well, Leota, the above should take care of it. However, the Farmers Branch Coin Club has not been the only club to fall by the roadside lately due to lack of interest and enthusiasm on the part of the members. If each one would put forth just a wee bit of effort and combine those wee bits, we would be writing very few club obituaries .... There are still many live-wire clubs in Texas though and two in particular seem to go out of their way looking for activities to take up members' time and create interest. The Austin Coin Club and the Liberty Coin Club of Corpus Christi are to be highly commended for pursuing all activities to promote the hobby in their area. Keep up with their good work through the pages of The TNA News and you may get some ideas for your own club. .

(S-13) - "CHINESE CURRENCY" by Fredrik Schjoth, revised and edited by Virgil Hancock, is the answer to the identification of those Chinese coins you may have in your collection. This publication will enable you to know more about those previously "mystery" coins with just the minimum amount of study on your part. Mr. Hancock has combined a sketch of China's history with a step-by-step method of showing how to read, date, and identify Chinese coins in a very interesting manner. If you have coins issued by China even as far back as 1122 B.C. and have not been able to identify them, this book is a "must" if you want to know more about them. The book is a very comprehensive study of Chinese coinage, with charts, drawings and photographs of coins that will aid in identifying Chinese coinage, as well as the coins of Annam Korea and Japan. The Price Supplement of the book will give you a good idea of the value of these coins. Your reviewer believes this production will fill a much-needed "authority" on Chinese currency. The Lincoln cent was the first portrait coin of a regular series minted by the U. S. The occasion of the 100th anniversary of Lincoln's birth aroused sentiment sufficiently strong to overcome a long-prevailing popular prejudice against the use of portraits on the coins.

Members and guests of Numismatics International, Dallas' only world coin club, were privileged to hear an educational lecture on "Dating of Japanese Coinage" by club president John E. Vandigriff, at a recent meeting. Vandigriff supplemented his talk by distributing to all persons present detailed drawings and information covering the characters found on most coins of Japan from 1868 to date. Educational lectures of this type are most important to any club and Numismatics International plans to continue efforts toward similar programs during 1967.

A club project was initiated which will benefit numismatics as far away as Australia. Club member, Mrs. H. J. Gammage of New South Wales, Australia informed the club that she is currently working with coins as occupational therapy at the Wagga Wagga Base Hospital. This is in addition to similar work with deaf and blind children. Vandigriff has asked the membership to donate world coins for shipment to Mrs. Gammage for use in her work. The project was "kicked off" by Marvin Fraley, Jack E. Lewis, and Edward E. Slade, Jr. who donated over 500 coins. Best in show award was won by John Herbert for his entry in ancient coins, at the Greater Houston Coin Club's annual Money Show in January.

As at Corpus Christi's Liberty Coin Club's recent show, displays were not judged by classes, but each exhibit was judged against all the other displays. Only one point behind in best of show scoring was Linda Kendall with another entry in ancient coins. Just two points lower, was Patricia Young with an illuminated display of heraldy. Fourth in the entire show was George Otto's exhibit of foreign crowns, this being Mr. Otto's first venture in competitive exhibiting.

A special guest was C. C. Shroyer of Fremont, Ohio, a past president of A.N.A. Fifty-one members attended the meeting.

A goal of 100 members National Coin Week time has been set by Liberty Coin Club of Corpus Christi, according to C. H. Roebuck, Sr., first vice president. The club would like to enter the competition this year in class A. They won first place honors in class B last year.

The drive got off to a good start with 15 new members being secured up during January.

A resolution was passed that junior members whose parent belong to the Liberty club would not be liable for membership fees. A junior committee was appointed consisting of Ed Kane, Rubye Crowley and Bob Robbins to seek out a time and place for a meeting of the junior members that would not conflict with their school work.

Special activities are in progress as Liberty club participates in various phases of National Coin Week. Ed Kane, heading up the benevolent activities of the club, presented a book, "A Guide of United States Coins," to the Red Cross Library at the Naval Hospital, continuing a project started during 1966 NCW. He visits the hospital twice a month, taking numismatic papers and magazines his committee has gathered up from local dealers.

is program chairman. Sixteen members attended the January meeting.

The club meets in the Community Room at Parkdale Plaza. The group maintains a library located in the Coin Nook, 1309 Ayers. — Lois Perry, Corr. Sec.

Mrs. Onida Buckner's entry was chosen as the best design for a club emblem by those present at the meeting of Corpus Christi Coin Club held January 9 at Gulfway National Bank. Her prize was a 1964 U.S. proof set.

"Odd and Curious Monies" was Mrs. Lamar Folda's program topic. She told how the need for a medium of exchange had lead to the use of many sizes and shapes and materials in "money" other than conventional coins. Mrs. Folda showed selected pieces from her collection to illustrate her talk. Because of illness and the weather only a small group heard the program. Mrs. Folda was asked to repeat it at a later date.

At the January 23 meeting the club met as a committee-of-the-whole to hear from show chairman Joe B. Davis about plans for the annual coin show set for March 11 and 12 at the Robert Driscoll Hotel. Davis named committee chairmen and made other assignments.

An educational program, an innovation for a Corpus Christi Coin Club show, will be presented at 2:00 p.m. March 12 when Virgil Hancock of Bellaire will give an illustrated talk on "Trade Coins of the World."

Plans for organizing the Texas chapter of the Maximilian Numismatic Society during the show were announced. Special exhibits of Maximilian coins, etc., have been promised. An 1866 small letter peso, one of only 32 reportedly struck before the die broke, will be featured.

An awards breakfast will be held

Been Robbed Lately?

If you have been unfortunate to have been robbed of your coin collection or other valuables, please forward a list of the stolen items to Bob Bridges, T.N.A. first vice president, who in turn will send the information to all state police, F.B.I. and other state and national organizations.

Bridges is assisting the committee appointed to the Texas Numismatic Protective Association and Security Board which was approved by the Texas Numismatic Association at a meeting held in Austin in September, 1966.

There have been robberies, but Bridges has not been notified nor received information on stolen articles, so if you have been a victim of a theft, your cooperation will be appreciated by the committee. "The published lists will not stop the robberies, but it could help stop the purchase of stolen coins," Bridges said.

SILVER DOLLARS OF PERU

Never before have we been able to offer such an extensive selection of the silver dollars of Peru as this month. Many are listed below at prices just over the value of the silver content and knowledgeable collectors know that these days will soon be gone forever--buying crowns at or near intrinsic value. Few countries are minting silver coins today, and it will not be long until all silver coins will be collectors items. The appreciation potential is obvious.
